HAPPY FRIDAY!

The Americans criticise the French, but it's just water off a duck's back: business as usual in the digital taxation world. But the US plans to hit the French where it really hurts: countervailing duties on US imports of Roquefort and champagne! Wait a minute – it's American consumers who will suffer!

India's CbC deal with the US was too good to be true, and Delhi's ITAT shows why Indian lawyers make so much money!

The EU's VEG gives us meat & potatoes on VAT, Australia talks about FIZLR, Kenya & Mauritius try again, and New Zealand shows why information exchange can be a slow process.

Malaysia includes imprisonment as an inducement to register for service tax – yeah, that might work.

And in Brazil, a Deputy introduces a bill to simplify the country's complex indirect tax system – and yes, he does want to take the PIS.

Have a great weekend!
Steve
