HAPPY FRIDAY!

Sweden announces that it is not Switzerland; the Beatles get back now and then; Sam is Fired; and be careful of mushrooms in Australia!

Meanwhile, in the tax world...

Jamaica jumps; Finland reserves; India guarantees 1%; Argentina extends price stability; South Africa needs registrations; and Romania turns over new taxes!

But at the end of the week, the most important question is this: "What do you think of Now and Then?"

Have a great weekend!

INTERNATIONAL TAX QUIZ

THIS WEEK'S NEW QUIZ

ACo, a company located in jurisdiction A, is a Constituent Entity in an MNE Group, which is "within scope" of the GloBE rules. In particular, the UPE of the MNE Group is not an "Excluded Entity", as defined in Art. 10.1 of the GloBE rules.

The UPE is located in jurisdiction B, which has implemented the GloBE rules. ACo conducts mining operations in jurisdiction A. Before commencing those operations, ACo signed a "tax stabilisation agreement" with the then government of jurisdiction A. Under this agreement, for a 20-year period from 2015, the government has agreed that the total amount of taxes imposed on ACo's profits for any year shall not exceed EUR 1 million. The agreement was not confirmed in any legislation enacted by jurisdiction A.

Some years after the agreement was signed, the government was defeated in a general election. Jurisdiction A has introduced a QDMTT.

In 2025, the jurisdiction A tax authorities impose EUR 3 million of taxes on ACo. The EUR 3 million is comprised of: corporate income tax (EUR 0.4 million) and QDMTT (EUR 2.6 million).

ACo has objected to this total amount of taxes. It claims that, under the "tax stabilisation agreement", its taxes on profits for 2025 cannot exceed EUR 1 million. It therefore has asked that the total tax claim be reduced by EUR 2 million.

The jurisdiction A tax authorities have (so far) resisted ACo's claim, on the basis that (1) the "tax stabilisation agreement", which was signed by the previous government, was not properly authorised by the head of State; and (2) the "tax stabilisation agreement" was not confirmed by legislation.

Due to the uncertainty on whether the "tax stabilisation agreement" will be respected, the MNE Group has recorded a tax expense of EUR 1 million in its 2025 consolidated financial statements, and has recognised a contingent liability of EUR 2 million in the notes to those financial statements.

Under the GloBE rules, is there any Top-up Tax for 2025 in respect of jurisdiction A? If so, what is the amount?

Would your answers be different if the MNE Group recorded a tax expense of EUR 3 million in its 2025 consolidated financial statements?

Answer in next ITB email alert!

LAST WEEK'S QUESTION

ACo, a company located in jurisdiction X, is a Constituent Entity in an MNE Group which is "within scope" of the GloBE rules. In particular, the UPE of the MNE Group is not an "Excluded Entity", as defined in Art. 10.1.1 of the GloBE rules.

ACo operates in several different sectors, including real estate. One of its real estate investments is an office building located in jurisdiction Y. All of the offices in the building are leased by ACo to unrelated lessees, in return for market-based rent. To facilitate the leasing activity (e.g., negotiate and enter into leases with lessees), and to manage the maintenance of the building, ACo employs 5 employees who are permanently located in a management office in the building. For regulatory purposes in jurisdiction Y, the leasing activity and the building are registered as a branch in jurisdiction Y.

The X/Y double tax treaty is identical to the 2017 OECD model treaty (with Art. 23B). Under the jurisdiction X corporate income tax law, the income derived in jurisdiction Y is taxable, with a credit for any jurisdiction Y tax paid.

Jurisdiction Y has implemented a QDMTT.

Is jurisdiction Y permitted to impose QDMTT on ACo's jurisdiction Y branch?

LAST WEEK'S ANSWER

(1) Treatment of building / branch under X/Y double tax treaty

ACo derives income from immovable property situated in Y. Therefore, Art. 8(1) allows Y to impose tax on that income, without limitation.

ACo's management office in the building would constitute a PE, as defined in Art. 5. The offices which are leased to lessees might not be part of that PE, or individual PEs in their own right, on the basis that they are not "at the disposal" of ACo; see para. 3d of 2017 OECD Comm to Art. 5.

In any event, regardless of the scope of the PE, Art. 7 does not apply: Art. 7(4) gives priority to Art. 8(1).

(2) Treatment of building / branch under GloBE rules

Is the definition of "Permanent Establishment" in Art. 10.1.1 satisfied?

Para. (a): no – Y does not tax the income attributable to ACo's place of business "in accordance with a provision similar to Article 7 of the OECD [model treaty]". Art. 8 is not similar to Art. 7.

Para. (b): no – There is an applicable treaty.

Para. (c): no – Y has a corporate income tax system in place.

Para. (d): no – X does not exempt the income attributable to the building / branch in Y.

As the "PE" definition in Art. 10.1.1 is exhaustive ("means"), the conclusion is that the building / branch is not a PE for GloBE purposes.

Therefore, the building / branch is not a "Constituent Entity": Art. 10.1.1.

[Aside: Is it possible that the building / branch is an "Entity", as defined in Art. 10.1.1; "an arrangement that prepares separate financial accounts, such as a partnership or trust"? IMHO: no – such a conclusion would make the reference to PEs in para. (b) of Art. 10.1.1 largely redundant. Also, the word, "arrangement", suggests the involvement of one or more other persons, such as in a partnership or trust – a building or branch does not have that attribute.]

(3) QDMTT

Para. 11b.4 of the Art. 10.1.1 definition of "QDMTT") requires that: "(a) the definition of ... Constituent Entity in the QDMTT [needs] to correspond with the [definition] in the GloBE Rules; and (b) the QDMTT must compute the tax liability for the jurisdiction by taking into account the income and covered taxes of Constituent Entities that are located in the jurisdiction as determined under the GloBE Rules."

As the building / branch is not a "Constituent Entity", there is no income and covered taxes, and therefore no Top-up Tax, for QDMTT purposes.

[Note that ACo is located, for GloBE purposes, in X: Art. 10.1.1. Thus, Y cannot impose QDMTT on ACo as a Constituent Entity.]

Thus, final answer: no, Y is not permitted to impose QDMTT on ACo's Y branch.
